

Sharing the Plate Collection

We donate a portion of our Sunday plate collections to local community service and social justice advocacy organizations. The intention of this is to:

- Support community organizations doing work in alignment with the focal areas of BUC's Social and Environmental Justice program
- Inform the BUC community and visitors about the work of selected recipients, broadening their knowledge of such work being done in our communities
- Foster a spirit of generosity that extends beyond our church to the broader community

A plate collection committee coordinates with leaders of the Social and Environmental Justice projects to identify and research candidate organizations and to select recipients. Each selected organization is a recipient for a period of 4-6 weeks, depending on time of year. Any congregant may suggest a recipient by submitting a completed application here.

A plate donation can be made at any time via the BUC website, via Venmo @BUCMI, or by mailing a check to the church office with "plate collection" on the memo line.
